HALYARD SCONCE (AXIAL)

Description

The Halyard sconce captures the moment of a sailor hoisting rigging into the gale, featuring a linear brass suspension that holds its fortified glass cylinder aloft.

The concentrically arched brass yoke and hand-brushed finish are complemented by a diamond-relief knurled lamp terminal, transforming a functional necessity of maritime signals into a sophisticated, hand-worked heirloom casting radial luminance—a steadfast source of illumination anchored by its heavy-gauge rigging.
